RE: BASO

Thank you for your interest in the BASO position, which was recently posted internally by Royal Caribbean International, fleet-wide.

We are very pleased to confirm that, having successfully passed through the process for Shipboard Job Applications, you have achieved the first step towards your goal; at this time you are now an eligible candidate in the Career Pipeline and we will actively work to place you in a suitable opening for this position, within a reasonable time.

Royal Caribbean International is committed to providing all eligible candidates a fair and unbiased opportunity for placements, while taking into account key factors, for example, first promoting candidates having one of the company's core languages, logistics, costs, ship, itinerary, special skill requirement, time length in pipeline, visa requirements, but most importantly, language will be the first determination. We therefore cannot give you an immediate reply as to your intended assignment date, but will certainly advise your HR Manager as soon as the details are known, and they will in turn keep you advised of any developments.

Just a few friendly reminders, while awaiting an assignment; you will of course need to maintain your good record of conduct and performance to maintain your status in the pipeline. In a case you take a long break and are inactive (without a return date) in the system for over 60 days, your name will automatically be removed from the pipeline and will need to re-apply for the position.

Have a great day and thank you again for your interest in achieving personal career progression within the Royal Caribbean fleet.

Sincerely,

Clinton Petersen
Human Resources Manager

Issued on behalf of
Shipboard Human Resources
Royal Caribbean International

Note: This letter does not constitute a legal job offer nor a binding contract for placement, but is intended to keep applicants advised as to their status in the application process. Any questions regarding this letter should be directed to the HR Manager shipboard.
